BLUE EYES AND CHESTNUT CURLS.

BY J. WARREN WATSON.

In my dreams methinks I'm sitting
By yon little fairy's side,
And I'm happy in the consciousness,
That she will be my bride;
But the bright illusion from me
Soon awaking reason hurls
Still I'm haunted—yes, I'm haunted
By blue eyes and chestnut curls!

Mark her witty, graceful answers!
Ah, they are too brief by half!
Who can listen unenchanted
To her merry, ringing laugh?
'Mid the festive throng of dancers
As with airy tread she whirls,
Tell me, who can keep from loving her
Blue eyes and chestnut curls?

In the quiet home of Nature,
With its flower-studded lea,
Placid lake and gleaming river,
Mountain, vale and forest tree;
Where the "blue and gold" of heaven
Doth enrich the arching skies,
Where Intrigue is but a stranger,
And where Sorrow quickly dies;

Far away from crowded city,
And the ball-room's blaze of light,
Where the only gems are Nature's
That bedeck the robe of Night—
Where the little winding brooklet
O er its rocky channel purls:
There I'd dwell, ah yes, forever,
With blue eyes and chestnut curls!

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN.

Junior Exhibition by the Class of 1869.

TUESDAY, March 24th, 1868.

The programme of these exercises commenced with music by the Light Guard Band of Detroit, which discoursed excellently to the packed audiences, and after prayer by President Haven, the first speaker, Mr. Colman Bancroft, made his appearance. Subject, "When?"

This speaker may improve by a less rapid utterance. He fails to make his points clearly.

"The uses of wit;" Henry A. Chaney. The faults that marred the speech of his predecessor also characterized the oration of Mr. Chaney. He defined wit and recommended its use to public men in legal and political life.

"It might have been;" Wm. J. Darby, Ky. "As individuals we experience bitter remorse for duties neglected." Mr. Darby is a fine speaker and clear logician.

"Individuality;" J. M. Gelston, Ann Arbor. Individuality is the first essential of success. To think, to decide, to act is individuality. Mr. Gelston's voice is well trained, but he lacks practice as an orator, which alone gives natural and easy appearance on the floor.

"The people without a history;" Nathan L. Guthrie. This was a very interesting account of the ancient Mound Builders of America. The Eastern Continent is not now entitled to be called the Old World. Mr. Guthrie is a very fine speaker. Uses strong and apt language, and gestures gracefully.

"Critics and criticism;" Francis M. Hamilton, Fort Wayne, Ind. This speaker is too precise to escape notice.

"Expatriation;" Samuel Hayes, Jr., Freeport, Ill. Old England's doctrine of "once a citizen always a citizen," must now be given up.

Mr. J. E. Hinman, of Hannibal, N. Y., discussed "Public Opinion" in a happy view. A commendable effort.

"The national novel;" Wm. C. Johns, Decatur, Ill. This was a fair production. He portrayed the difficulties of the American author in an original manner.

"Men and coats;" M. B. Kellogg, Constantine. Dress is an index of individuals and of nations.

"Three Famous State Papers;" Theodore F. Kerr, Lodi, Mich. These three landmarks of liberty are, "Magna Charta," "The Declaration of Independence," and "The Emancipation Proclamation." Lincoln said, "by giving freedom to the slave we insure freedom to the free." This oration was well written, but the speaker's voice was somewhat monotonous.

"The Engineering Profession;" Albert A. Robinson, Fulton, Wis. Mr. Robinson urged the value of this profession in a well prepared oration.

"The coming elections;" H. G. Snover, of Romeo. Mr. Snover avoided in a happy manner the exhibition of partizan feeling in this speech, and advised men of all parties to regard the principle of our fathers, and do their part without prejudice in the coming political strife.

The performance as a whole was very creditable to the class. Although there was considerable improvement on the past, there were some faults which smacked perceptibly of the recitation room—references to "the oration on the Crown," and other ancient glories that are of doubtful value in the age of Steam and Iron.

The Medical and Law Commencement took place the day following, March 25th, 1868.

Seventy-six "Medics" received the degree of Doctor of Medicine, conferred by Dr. Haven.

One hundred and fifty-four students at law received the degree of Bachelor of Law. Both classes were severally addressed by the President.

Yours truly,

Repudiation Democracy.

One portion of Governor Seymour's speech, which grates hardly upon the feelings of the Democratic repudiation demagogues of the West, and which the leading Democratic organ of this State dare not publish, and cannot answer, reads as follows:

"It is a mistake to suppose that they (the bonds) are mostly held by capitalists. Large sums belonging to children and widows, under the order of courts or the action of trustees, have been invested in government bonds. The vast amounts held by fire and life insurance companies and savings banks are, in fact, held in trust for, and are the reliance of, the great body of active business and laboring men or women or of widows and orphans. The savings banks of this State, which are the depositaries of the poor, or of persons of limited means, hold about $60,000,000 of government bonds. The whole amount held in the State of New York, in the various forms of trust, will not fall below $200,000,000. If we look into other States we shall see that only a small share of these bonds are held by men known as capitalists, but they belong in fact, if not in form, to the business men, the active and laboring members of society. The destruction of these securities would make a wide-spread ruin and distress, which would reach into every workshop and every district, however humble."

These statements cannot be controverted; and yet the Democratic party of Michigan contains a majority of repudiations, if its press represents it fairly. For while the boldest and most partisan of the Democratic organs of Michigan denounce Governor Seymour's speech, and advocate the Pendleton repudiation scheme, in which their leading organ has heretofore joined, this leading organ dare not now indorse Seymour's speech, but maintains a silence that shows that it still secretly sympathises with the repudiationists, who have the Democratic field all to themselves in this State. Judged by the attitude of its press, the Democratic party of Michigan is already committed to repudiation and national financial dishonor.—Post.

Tom Corwin and Mrs. Shannon.

Corwin's opponent in the gubernatorial race was the then incumbent, Gov. Wilson Shannon. During one of his trips from one appointment to another, Cowin and the wife of Shannon were fellow passengers in a stage-coach. They had never met, and were unknown to each other. Mrs. Shannon had no escort, but carried only her infant boy in her arms. The remainder of the passengers consisted of Corwin's friends, who made the round of the State with him, and who were also ignorant of the rival candidate's "better half." They were not long left in this blissful ignorance, for the lady, aroused by the hard-cider sentiments, soon gave them to understand in very plain English that she was a "good locofoco," and moreover "the wife of Gov. Shannon, to boot."

This announcement rather startled the gentlemen. Corwin was the first to recover his composure and take advantage of the situation. Expressing himself delighted at having met her, he placed himself beside Mrs. Shannon and at once became very attentive to her. He told her of his acquaintance with her husband, spoke in highly complimentary terms of his character and public career, and expressed his unbounded admiration of the man. The lady was charmed, and begged several times to know the name of her new found friend. Corwin found means to avoid answering that question. The lady overlooked this evasion, and told Corwin in confidence, loud enough, of course, to be heard by the hard cider men, that her husband was certain of a re-election; that "he was not to be beaten by that fellow, Tom Corwin; who was nothing after all," she added, "but a wagon boy, when young."

"And who now goes about the country," suggested Corwin, "making himself ridiculous by driving a six-horse team, with a log cabin mounted on a country wagon."

"And who they say is as black as the ace of spades," chimed in the lady.

"Black, madam!" exclaimed Corwin, "black! yes, black as the—I beg your pardon—as I am."

Continuing the deception in a manner which kept his friends convulsed with smothered laughter, Corwin took the lady's baby in his arms, fondled and dandled it, calling it the "Young Governor," and carrying the heart of the mother by storm. At length the lady reached her destination, and told Corwin so with a sigh of regret. The gallant but unknown candidate assisted the Governor's lady to alight, took the child in his arms and carried it into the house. He saw the lady in her parlor and laid the infant flat on its back in her lap. Holding it there for a moment he said:

"My dear Mrs. Shannon, I have laid the young Governor flat on his back, and I'm going to serve the old Governor in the same way at the coming election. Good-by! I ought to have told you that my name is Tom Corwin, who was nothing but a wagon boy, and is pretty black I must admit. Good-by!" And before Mrs. Shannon could recover from her astonishment he was gone. He did lay the old Governor flat on his back, but the latter returned the compliment two years later.

The Disaster on the Ohio.

Since the steamer Sultana, with seventeen hundred soldiers on board, burned and sunk near Vicksburg, in 1864, there is no parallel which we can recall to that terrible disaster or crime which has just occurred near Cincinnati. In the twinkling of an eye eighty persons out of one hundred and forty on board of the Magnolia, were roasted, boiled, blown to pieces or drowned. The combination and succession of calamities which occurred were at once wonderful and horrible. The wonder is not that so many were lost, but that so many were saved. In the first place "no one is to blame," which is not unusual, and the engineer who survives is very much at loss to account for the explosion. Just a moment before the explosion he examined the boiler and found plenty of water in it, and never dreamed that it would play him such a trick. Then the deceptive boiler burst and hurled men and women promiscuously around. Then some hay caught fire, and those who were yet alive, but so mangled or scalded that they could not move, were burned to death. Then the fire reached the magazine. A few powder-kegs exploded, destroying a few more lives or injuring a few more bodies. Finally the boat sunk and drowned the rest. Those who were not blown to pieces by the boiler, who were not scalded to death by the steam, who were not roasted to death by the fire, who were not torn to shreds by the powder, who were not carried to the bottom of the river by the sinking boat, who were not drowned in attempting to swim to shore, who were not forced by agony of their wounds to plunge into the cold water after they had been picked up, all but these—escaped and were sent, many of them, to the hospital. St. Paul, surviving his journeyings often, and his perils by land, perils by water, perils in the city, perils in the wilderness, perils in the sea, perils of robbers, and perils by his own countrymen, was scarcely more conspicuous for his salvation than the few who got from the Magnolia safely to the land.—Post.

—The Memphis Avalanche, utterly surprised and disgusted with the result of the recent election in that city, soundly berates the negroes for deceiving the Democratic managers. The Post says:

"The attempt of Conservative employers in Memphis, by proscription and want, to drive the colored people into voting at their beck and dictation, as so many slaves, has forced the latter to resort to all manner of deception and concealement. They could not meet force with force, and they adopted the usual strategy of weakness. If this recourse is not to be applauded, it is at least very human, and should have been anticipated by the would-be Rebel masters. Such was the complaisance of colored men when compelled to talk politics with their employers, that the Conservatives were confident of victory at the late election. Many colored sharpers, finding the weak side of the Conservative leaders, under the idea of electioneering for them, bled them freely. Sheriff Winters was, perhaps, more wickedly victimized than any one else. So completely did the colored men bamboozle him that he frequently boasted that he would carry a majority of their votes. Tom Avant, we presume under his auspices, opened a saloon in the basement, under the Criminal Court room, where he dispensed to his colored brethren Conservative whiskey and cheer freely, and without regard to cost. It was largely resorted to, and great results were predicted. The Conservative leaders, however, have found that from their efforts to shear what they took for sheepish fools that they have come home shorn. Laid out sold on Saturday, they have had a sorrowful waking. The colored men drank their whiskey, danced to their fiddlers, and filled their pockets with the enemy's money. But out of a colored vote of about 4,400, the Conservatives received less than 100!

"Some of the colored men by whom the Conservative candidates were taken in and done for have been to them, whining sympathetically over their misfortunes, and afterwards come to us telling their game and laughing at their victims. The Avalanche thus expresses the feeling and indignation of the sufferers as follows:

"'On the day of election only about one hundred negroes voted for the Conservative ticket. Still about one thousand are now seeking employment on account of their devotion to the Conservative cause. If the Conservative party had been triumphant in the late election, there would have been five thousand negroes claiming employment of those voting the Conservative ticket; but, being defeated, only about one thousand claim employment of Conservatives, when only one hundred voted the Conservative ticket! These facts speak badly for the negroes. It shows treachery, deceit and fraud on the part of our colored voters. Webb and Wardlow and Gilbert and Eli and Parham and Delap are all true, but their friends are treacherous. One hundred negroes voted the Conservative ticket, and these one hundred cost us five thousand dollars. Stand by the Conservative negro, but these are few.'"

—We humbly trust that every Republican who believes in justice, loves mercy, will do his full duty next Monday.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS,

We again address you on the eve of a political contest, and in behalf of a cause vital to the interests of our State and Nation. In 1864 we were profoundly impressed with the magnitude of the issues involved. No less than on the one hand pronouncing the war for the Union a "failure," and surrendering to rebels in arms, an ignominious peace, a perpetual dissolution of the Union—or on the other, fight it out with a stern, unyielding patriotism. The American people, though disheartened to some extent, paused before the yawning abyss of secession triumphant, and re-elected Abraham Lincoln. We believe the wide conviction exists that no wiser thing could have been done, that the result of the campaign saved the Nation.

In 1866 the questions in issue were: shou'd Andrew Johnson assume and maintain Dictatorial powers and reconstruct the rebel States in the interests of Slavery and secession, giving ex-rebels complete control; or shall Congress, the representatives of the people, the legitimate agents, do this work. Through a wrong-headed President, a traitor to his party and now being tried at the bar of the Senate for treason to his Country, the Nation was in imminent peril. The people largely decided in favor of Congress and of reconstructing the rebel States on a basis of loyalty. What Republican doubts the wisdom of the decision then made? But with such a man as Andrew in the executive chair the work has been slow. Yet sure progress has been made. The loyal men of Arkansas in the face of the most bitter hate and opposition of the rebels, have triumphed. The other States hang in the balance. This month, North and South Carolina and Florida will hold their elections. What cheer sha'l we send down to those hard beleagured loyalists of the South? Shall we Michigan men refuse to enfranchise 1000 colored men, men who helped fight our battles. Since 1866 we vote to enfranchise nearly a million of black men in the South, and next Fall, intend to confirm their enfranchisement in the election of Gen. Grant, will it not be unmanly, aye base, heartless cruelty, to spurn these men in our own midst, a large majority of them worthy citizens? We cannot face the results of such conduct before the bar of our own consciences, much less at that Grand Day of Assize, when God will pronounce judgment on every evil work. If we refuse to do justly now in this our day of opportunity the judgments that overtook us as a people on account of Slavery, will be heaped upon us in larger measure. The colored men in this State have not as much at stake as we have. The children of Israel did not have as much heartfelt interest in getting justice as Pharoah and the Egyptians in giving it. Withholding justice, overwhelming ruin was to be their lot, while God would see that the oppressed did not suffer. The tendency of withholding the ballot to the colored voter is to single him out as a special outcast and a subject of political degradation in the State. If he could afford to permit us to do it, we can't afford it. We can't afford to do wrong. Let us then do right. We cannot afford to harbor a thousand political outcasts in our State. We appeal with confidence to your moral sense. The new Constitution is every way worthy of our support. Rally then to the Polls Monday. Be sure and see that every friend of the Constitution is at the Polls. Let us gladden the hearts of the friends of liberty everywhere. Strengthen the hands of our representatives in Congress, and plant our State on the broad basis of JUSTICE AND HARMONY TO MAN.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.—THE DOUGLAS, NORRIS AND UHL.

The "Bloody Fifth" was, a few evenings since, the scene of a grand rally of the Democracy. In other words, as the chairman called it, "A Democratic Love Feast." Hon. E. Bogardus, as chairman, introduced the exercises by condemning the unmeasured fanaticism sweeping over the land. (Illustrated in New Hampshire.) He was glad to be enrolled among those who believe in a white man's government. Called traitors during the war, they could now hurl back the epithet upon Republicans. He exhorted every Democrat to enroll his name—to know one another and have a love feast. Blodget was called on, but excused himself and introduced Mr. Douglass of the University. This youthful scion of Democracy never doubted the purity of the fundamental principles of the Democracy. (Like Johnson) he adored the Constitution. "It was his sole guide." Seven years ago the Republican party in the consummation of its plans to destroy the Country, scattered far and wide their greenbacks—seeking by the negro question to cover up their wicked plans. The war was necessary, but these naughty Republicans had no business to create a public debt, heaping on us a taxation far surpassing that of any other government upon the face of the earth. (Considering our immense resources ain't you a little mistaken?) He bewailed the fate of the foreigner who left the groaning burdens of light taxation, the home of his kindred, the graves of his fore fathers to secure liberty and homes for himself and offspring, and comes to this land, where they pay three times the taxes, and where one third the people are under the worst tyranny of any people under the sun. (Some how Douglass can't make the foreigners believe it, they will crowd to our shores.) Just think of it. Horror of horrors. $6,000,000 expended to keep up a great white-house in Virginia. What about that mælstrom of iniquity cherished by Democracy under the rule of Slavery? "Republican party lives by stealing Democratic principles." Then the Democracy must be pretty badly cleaned out of principles by this time. Our young friend pitched strong into the leading man of the party, Gov. Seymour. See an article in another column where Gov. Seymour denounces repudiation, showing that the bonds are in the hands of the poor. Douglas gave Belmont and the other bank and merchant princes of the Democratic party particular fits. Poor Seymour. Poor Belmont. They got a bitter pelting. Hurrah for the Western Democracy, Pendleton and Pomeroy, and Douglas to back them. Our young friend has decided talent and in a righteous cause where he could appeal to the nobler emotions of the human soul, he would do him self credit. I tell thee, friend Douglas, the Democratic party has no future. You are allying yourself to a dead mule. It may revivify itself, spasmodically give tokens of life, kick wildly and do some injury and some credulous souls may really believe that it is coming to life. But it will relapse into a stiff, rigid corpse. No vitality of principle, no chord of sympathy with this progressive humane age. Nothing that links it to the throne of God and binds to it men who love justice and liberty. Its record will look blacker and blacker as the years roll on. You are connecting yourself with a party that instead of enabling you to proclaim principles that enlist the consciences of men, all that is sublime in morality and religion will drag you down to pander to the vilest prejudices and basest passions of the human heart. Health of soul and health of manhood require thee to pause and advocate principles loftier and better, manlier and more God-like.

Neighbor Norris next took the stand. "Long months he had been destitute of a political thought." We thought so. The 5th Ward was out in force. They wanted to see him and he wanted to see them. He illustrated the kindred feelings existing between him and the 5th warders by the story of the old lady's pig. The very air seems to proclaim that the Democracy must now do their duty or all is lost. [The still small voice from New Hampshire worried our learned friend.] The Democracy are in for he fight, have begun the campaign early and mean to prosecute it to the bitter end. The Democracy have a hard row, a most desperate foe to contend with. Poor and naked and forlorn the unterrified must wade in and pull down the Republican aristocracy that has been raised up to grind the masses to powder. I don't earn a cent but what comes from your sweat and toil (and these Republicans are imitating my example and draining you of the last cent.) Oh how we leading Democrats do love the poor people. We would not steal a cent. We ask the Republicans to drop the eternal nigger and attend to white men's interests. Why won't Mr. N. drop the nigger? You know that by giving him his rights now he ceases to be an object of interest in our politics. If your party triumphs he will continue to be the central object over which the contending hosts will fight. Lovers of justice and right oppos d by lovers of tyranny and oppression. If you are honest in your regard for the white man's interest help us to settle this question now and for good.

Says our fighting friend Norris, he who buckled on his armor and fought so valiently, over the left, during the late war, "we Democrats will try peaceful means, the ballot once more and if defeated will resort to REVOLUTION." Methinks we see neighbor Norris buckling on his armor and marching side by side with Davis, Breckenridge not to take the Capital, but in hot haste for Canada. Don't threaten us again. Your party has been whipped in the field once and so badly whipped it will not try it over again in that way in your day or mine. He explained his vote in favor of suffrage last summer. He was not honest it was simply a trick to entrap Republicans. But then he did really believe a nigger had a soul and before the bar of God stood on equality. But he is not as liberal as his Maker and is afraid of even giving him his manhood rights. He is not yet prepared to give the colored man the ballot. (When the Democrats can confer it, it will be all right.) When the negroes can vote the Republican ticket in Michigan, as they all will, then friend Norris proposes to emigrate. Where, O where? To Canada? There the nigger is a voter. To New England? There the nigger is a voter. To Old Virginia? There the nigger is a voter. To that sink of pollution, New York city? There the nigger is a voter. To Nevada? There the nigger is a voter. To England, France, South America? A voter still. Oh! friend Norris, where will you go? Echo answers where? We will tell you what you will do. You will stay here in Ypsilanti and you will swear by all that is good and great that you voted for manhood suffrage in the Convention, that you have always been his friend, that when you made this speech to the "bloody fifth" warders, it was only for effect, to hoodwink the vengeful Irish and the fighting Dutch. Well! the naughty Republicans, puritanic in all their notions mean to deprive you Dutch of your beer. We Democrats believe in letting men follow out their lusts to the full. The list of prohibited things is swelling fearfully large under Republican rule. (We supposed prohibition was not in the Republican platform, but as a no party question, submitted separately.) With another threat of Revolution if these awful Republicans were not beaten at the Polls and a promise next time not to say, "go boys, but come," he closed. When we looked upon his noble gifts, intellectual endowments, playing the demagogue, appealing to the lower passions, to the unholiest prejudices of his fellow citizens, we felt ashamed, humbled. Friend Norris, in your inmost soul you have higher and nobler aspirations. Break he shackles of party. As Theodore Tilton graphically proved the other evening a man to grow intellectually must embrace truths and principles in harmony with the great law of God and of revelation, being otherwise he will sink down to a level with the principles he advocates. As they are low and grovelling, and unworthy and unrighteous, so will he become low, unworthy and unrighteous. In the name of God, in the name of justice, our common humanity, we exhort you to reach forth and grasp a higher range of politics, enabling you to appeal to all that is good in your hearers, to their moral natures, calculated to exalt rather than to degrade, to foster temperance, love of justice, etc. Should we not seek to stimulate those whom we can influence to the mastery of their passions and appetites rather than administering to them?

Mr. Uhl followed in words well chosen for his side of the question. An earnest exhortation to the Democracy to arise in th ir strength and defeat the Constitution. We ran out of paper and had to stop our note taking.

New Constitution.

Let every man note the following excellencies in the new constitution:

It contains a bill of rights, which the old constitution has not.

It guarantees "religious" rights, which the old constitution does not.

It pays honest wages for honest work in the public offices; which the old one does not.

It requires State officers to attend to the duties of their offices themselves; while, under the old constitution they leave the business to clerks.

It allows State officers to receive no fees or perquisites; while the "stealings and pickings," under the old constitution, are often the best part of the pay.

It forbids public officers, State, county, town, or city, to use the public funds for their own benefit, or to pocket any interest paid by banks or by anybody for their use, but requires all interest to go into the public treasury; whereas under the present constitution, officers lend the public funds to banks and put the interest in their own pockets.

It allows poor men the same chance as rich men to hold high offices, by paying fair wages, so that poor men, as well as rich men can afford to hold office, a right which under the present constitution is virtually denied them.

It gives the Legislature power to regulate salaries to suit the times.

It limits the amount that may be voted in aid of railroads; whereas the present constitution does not prevent towns and counties from bankrupting themselves by voting large loans to railroad and other corporations.

It provides for public schools for one third of each full year, free of expense to scholars. Every friend of popular education should vote for it because of that section alone.

It remodels our system of courts, giving us the best system yet invented. The lawyers of both parties, of any reputation or standing, are heartily in favor of the changes.

It makes each stockholder in any corporation or company individually liable to the amount of his stock, and no more. He has to pay just his share of all debts, and cannot be made to pay more than his interest in the concern.

It forbids Senators and Representatives during their terms, to be elected to any office which has been created or whose emoluments have been increased by the Legislature of that term. This prevents any member from being tempted to create or enhance the value of any office for his personal benefit. The present constitution does not.

The business of extra sessions is strictly confined to the specific object for which they are called by the Governor, thus saving expense to the State, and preventing legislation upon matters which have not received consideration or discussion on the part of the people.

The change in the process of impeachment forbids the officer from exercising the powers of his office during his trial, and thus deprives him of all means with which to illegally resist the impeachment with the very powers that he is accused of abusing.

Every law which creates a debt must provide for a sinking fund to pay for the same. As a financial measure this provision alone ought to offset the objections to the proposed constitution. It will prevent wild and reckless appropriations. It is like the private domestic economy which induces men never to buy anything on credit until they know where the money is coming from to pay for it.

The New Constitution.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. May, in a recent speech at Jackson, hit the nail on the head in the following language. Speaking of the necessity of adopting the new Constitution, and the purely democratic principle of impartial suffrage, he said:

"It is ungenerous, it is unreasonable, it is dev'lish. The black man was born here, he has a right to live here, he is needed here. We cannot afford to oppress him any longer. In the noble language of that great statesman, Chief Justice Chase, written while he was Secretary—'the government cannot afford to lose the support of the humblest member of this despised race among us.' We have not yet paid in full the terrible penalty which a just Heaven has exacted of us for our past oppression of the African race. Three hundred thousand brave men slain in battle; a land full of crippled and wounded soldiers, of widowed wives and orphaned children; hundreds of millions of treasures wasted and sunk in the mælstrom of war; these are the fearful installments already paid. A national debt of nearly three billions to burden the industry of the country for long years to come, a disordered commerce and an unreconstructed Union—these remain with all their difficulties and dangers.

Is this not enough? Shall we brave more of Heaven's retribution? Our path is plain—it is to do justice to the negro—give him his rights. That is easy—that is safe.—When the ballot shall be put into the hand of the negro then will be the end of the negro question. But until that is done there will be agitation. It will go on until there is full equality of political rights in America. This is in accordance with God's law, with the spirit of the age. I ask this right for the negro not because he is a NEGRO, but because he is a MAN. I do not ask for him SOCIAL equality. That is not fixed by Constitution or Statutes. I do not exalt him above his fellow men; I do not 'worship' him because I ask for his rights. Give him the ballot and he will take good care of himself. But oppress, and all that is good and high and noble in human nature, art and poetry and eloquence will plead for him and agitate for him. That is why the negro has been prominent in our politics and literature. When our political waters shall become pure they will cease to be agitated.

Republicans of Michigan! It is high and responsible work which we have before us. In rebuilding our political house, let us plant its foundation on the rock. Then it will stand when the storm and the waves of passion and civil strife beat against it. I beseech you to reject with magnanimous scorn the wretched pretensions that this is a 'white man's government.' It is a government for ALL men—it is the PEOPLE'S Government. Don't, I pray you, let a single Republican vote at the coming election be given so as to aid that monstrous and unholy crusade which the Democratic party in this country is waging to-day against the fundamental idea of the Republic, against the rights of man and against the spirit of Christianity."

Trichnea.—Nothing so far has been discovered to stop the ravages of this disease, but Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor will cure Scrofula and all diseases of the blood.

Amalgamationists are Democrats.

In all ages the advocates of wrong and oppression have used the meanest names to characterize the motives and actions of reformers. Especially has this been the case with those who now oppose equal suffrage. "Nigger Equality," "Nigger Supremacy," "Amalgamation," and "Damn the Nigger," are the main arguments used by the leaders as well as the rank and file of the Democratic party. Avarice, ambition, meanness, ignorance, prejudice and hate are the foundations of tyranny, whether under a monarchial or republican form of government. The same feelings and style of language distinguish those men, whether few or many, who desire to oppress others.

Democrats have so persistently charged the Republicans with being amalgamationists, that a few unin-formed persons almost believe it, notwithstanding Democrats are the great amalgamationists.

Solomon wrote: "Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest you be like him." Perhaps this is the reason why Republicans have so long allowed this senseless slang to go unanswered. But every portion of Scripture does not apply to the same subject, or to the same class of persons. Solomon knew this, for in another place he says:

"Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit."

This passage defines the disease exactly, and medicine must be given in strong doses to effect a radical cure, as the fool-killer has been absent from these parts for a long time.

Be it known to all, both great and small, that the Democratic party is the father and slavery the mother of amalgamation between blacks and whites, and that when these two causes, actual slavery and sham democracy, are thoroughly used up amalgamation will cease, and not till then. Where there is no fuel the fire goes out.

Where has amalgamation most flourished? In the slave States, where the Democratic party has always flourished. Amalgamation has been common where slavery existed, and very rare in the free north. Go to the Southern States and count on your fingers the number of full-blooded Africans you will meet in every one hundred of the colored population. You will find on every plantation more or less standard works of practical amalgamation by Democratic authors, illustrated with their likenesses in every variety of photograph and engraving, and in more styles of painting, gilding and binding than can be found in all the bookstores of the globe.

Be it also known that Republicans do not advocate or practice amalgamation, while every advocate of slavery is unavoidably an advocate of practical amalgamation. Thousands of Democratic practical amalgamationists have been elected as Judges, Members of Congress, Governors, and to other high official stations, while not one Republican practical amalgamationist holds (even the office of constable or pound master. Who are the amalgamationists?

But my dear Democratic friend—don't you remember thirty-five years ago when next to Gen. Jackson, the Tecumseh killer, Col. Richard M. Johnson, was the favorite of your party in the west? Don't you also bring to mind that when you felt inspired you sang and shouted until the blue vault of the starry sky rang with the soul-stirring notes of that glorious old Democratic hymn:

"Susey Arnold are a case,
And so is Polly Dobson,
General Jackson am a hoss,
And so is Kornal Johnson."

Do you remember that for thirty years, Col. Johnson was the Democratic leader in Kentucky? Do you remember that he was presented by Kentucky as her candidate for the Presidency? Do you remember that in 1836 Col. Richard M. Johnson was the Democratic candidate for Vice President, that every Northern Democrat voted for him, and that he held the office of Vice President four years? Do you remember that in 1840 he again ran for Vice President, that every Northern Democrat again voted for him, though he was then defeated by the Whigs?

If you remember all these facts, you will remember some others which were never denied. Col. Richard M. Johnson, the Democratic Vice President was never legally married. For forty years an African slave woman was his bosom companion. By her he had several daughters whom he treated as his property. In this he found an honorable exception to most of the Southern Democratic leaders, for they reduced their colored children to ignorance, degradation and slavery.

Tell not these historical facts in Gath, publish them not in the streets of Gaza, nor let the sound thereof be heard in Askelon, Ye Democratic howlers about amalgamation, let the people with fingers gyrating about their noses laugh at your reply. Please remember the old maxim, "that those who live in glass houses should be careful not to throw stones."—Lansing Republican.

Job Work

Is done at present on the second floor, while waiting for our Taylor Cylinder Steam Press, which is being manufactured for our express use at Chicago, at the manufactory of A. B. Taylor and Sons. We are doing good work, in good style, on our Hand Press and improved Gordon. We are ordering latest styles of type, the latest improvements in printing, and have first class workmen to make them talk. Our Taylor Press will be here about the first of April.

WORK ON MONDAY.—We don't need to exhort the Republicans of Ypsilanti. to poll their last vote—to vote early, honestly and earnestly and z alously for they will do it. We expect to see every working Republican at the polls.

B. F. TAYLOR.—Don't forget to go and hear this far-famed lecturer next Tuesday evening. The subject is one that interests every intelligent person—"English Words, their Use, Abuse and Beauty." It is the last lecture of the course. Let us turn out, be instructed and amused, and give the Library Association a big lift.

CITY CONVENTION.—The Secretary, Mr. J. K. Heartt. has handed us a full report of the preceedings. We have not time to publish them.

Washtenaw County Temperance Convention.

This Convention held at Ann Arbor, April 1st, was characterized by great earnestness and weight of character. A very able set of resolutions was passed, of which we publish two which have the most practical significance at this time:

Resolved, That believing the ballot to be the free man's weapon. and that temperance has its political as well as its moral aspects, it is necessary to urge upon the friends of temperance the prime duty of using all laudable efforts to secure the nomination and election to office of men who stands squarely committed in favor of the temperance reform.

Resolved, That no political party can command our votes in favor of intemperate men, or of men who are opposed to prohibition.

Both parties were represented in the convention and the vote for the above was unanimous.

Republican Rally.—Speech by Hon. H. H. Emmons.

Mr. Emmons made a fine and effective effort. He narrated the events of the late war, position of the Democratic party. Described an interview with Jeff Davis at Montreal. Found Jeff an ardent admirer of Johnsonian reconstruction. Developed the enormities of that course. Encouraging the rebels. The efforts at once made by them to reduce the freedmen to slavery again—should not own a foot of land—could not swear in courts of justice—prohibited from going beyond the bounds of neighborhood etc., etc.

Mr. Emmons was strongly inclined to Conservatism. He must acknowledge that the Radicals know the rebels better than we Conservatives. For no laws ever more infamous and shocking than these thrust into the face of Northern liberty. He related instances of insult to Northern women, daughters of distinguished Democrats. He made a splendid appeal in behalf of the new constitution, especially manhood suffrage, showed our inconsistency in giving the ballot to Southern blacks and refusing it here. How mean it would be to deny it to men who had helped fight our battles. No country on earth, but a few Republican States in America, make a special discrimination and disfranchise the colored man. The grand plea was because it is right to do so and we cannot afford to do wrong.

Capt. Allen

Deserves the thanks of the friends of the constitution. We hear from the different towns the most flattering reports of the effectiveness of his efforts making eloquent and convincing pleas for the right.

Library Association.

An adjourned meeting of this Association for the Election of Officers will be held immediately after the lecture, Tuesday evening, April 7th. As nine officers are to be elected it is hoped a sufficient number will be present to furnish the requisite number of candidates.

J. F. SMITH,
Recording Secretary.

Republican Candidates.

The following are the condidates presented for the suffrages of the Republicans of this city. A better ticket, take it through out, was never presented to the suffrages of the citizens of Ypsilanti. True and tried men every one. Fellow Republicans, let us go in with a will and elect them by a handsome majority:

ALDERMEN.

1st Ward—S. Barnard.
2d " —A. Guild.
3d " —Martin Gray.
4th " —O. E. Thompson.
5th " —Josiah Newel.

City Officers: Mayor. H Batchelder; City Clerk. S. C Noble; Supervisor, 1st District, Lee Yost; 2d, R. E. Hudson.

Constables: 1st District, Geo. Sherwood; 2d, J. P. Dickinson.

Temperance.

At the Presbyterian church next Sabbath evening, the pastor will preach on the Duty of the People in regard to the Cause of Temperance at the present time.

Real Estate.

Moses Fifield to Wm. B. Smith, farm of 80 acres in Ypsilanti town, $6,500.

Wonder if Pattison would like some money on subscription about these days?

PROHIBITION.

On Monday next every citizen is expected to vote "Prohibition, Yes;" or "Prohibition, No."

Every friend of humanity, every man opposed to the drunkard making business, whether he drink himself, or not, will vote "YES" on the question.

None but whiskey sellers and their dupes and victims will vote "No." The simple question is: Shall we sanction a business which robs this State of twenty million dollars per annum, which causes nine-tenths of all the crime, litigation, pauperism, insanity and idiocy and sends unspeakable misery and wretchedness into fifty thousand families, destroys the health of thousands, and annually sends hundreds of men to an untimely and infamous grave! Shall the State be disgraced in the eyes of all the world by the triumph of this drunkard making business? If the conscience, or the good sense, or the honor of the State speaks, prohibition will be carried by an overwhelming majority.

Though this is not a party question and many honest Democrats will vote for this measure, yet let it be remembered that no Republican can vote against it without betraying his best friend, and a book of remembrance is kept and a day of reckoning will come. A word to the wise is sufficient. Let every temperance man and woman work in this election as they never did before. Allow no man to go to the polls without being earnestly entreated to vote against this terrible business.

If any one will not vote for prohibition, entreat him in the name of God and of humanity not to vote against it.

A Candid Admission.

The Democratic press throughout the State are opposing the adoption of the new Constitution, because of the increase of salaries to State Officers and Judges of the Circuit and Supreme Courts. The proposed increase if adopted will still be less than given to like officers in three fourths of the States. In the aggregate it would not increase the present State Tax one-twentieth of a mill on the dollar. They ignore the fact that two of the present Democratic Judges have received increase of salaries from Democratic Boards of Supervisors. They forget that under the old Constitution the Legislature of the State has no power to control the salaries of officers; while under the new the salary after the adoption of the Constitution, is subject to the action of the Legislature. As the old judicial officers all hold their position until the next year, the Legislature have power to change it before any new judges come into office. They forget that public officers should receive such compensation as will prevent them from any attempt to evade law or custom to gain for themselves fair compensation.

The Michigan Argus, one of the ablest Democratic papers in the State, in speaking of this subject says:

"For one we shall not attack the new Constitution through the Article on Salaries. None of the salaries of State officers are in our estimation fixed too high, unless we except the Attorney General, who for years has been rather ornamental than useful; and as to the Legislature at four dollars per day, the members will be able to deposit their surplus earnings in a savings-bank."

—If any man votes for prohibition and against the constitution, he simply throws away his vote, for the prohibitory clause, if carried, is of no effect unless the constitution is also carried. On the other hand if any man votes against prohibition and against the new constitution, he throws away his vote; for, if prohibition is defeated and the new constitution is also defeated, prohibition remains in the present constitution. It is for the interest of all those who favor prohibition to carry the new constitution with prohibition. It is for the interest of all those who oppose prohibition to carry the new constitution without prohibition. The only possible way to get rid of prohibition is to carry the new constitution without prohibition, by voting for the new constitution and against prohibition.—Post.

—If the new constitution is defeated, the Democrats all over the country will claim that the people of Michigan repudiate impeachment and are opposed to reconstruction in the South. How will the false Republican who votes against Equal Rights in Michigan answer them? If any man is sincere in advocating Justice, Liberty and Right anywhere, surely he cannot fail to vote for Justice, Liberty and Right in his own State. And if any man believes that Andrew Johnson committed a crime in opposing laws enacted to uphold Equal Rights in the South, how can he vote against Equal Rights in Michigan?—Post.

THE LAWS OF LIFE for April have come to hand. It is a very interesting and instructive number. Hereafter it is to be devoted to the discussion of Temperance and the best means for its promotion, as well as to the great question of Health. We cordially commend it to all our readers, and assure them that were they to subscribe for it they would get the worth of their money ten times told. At any rate, they can satisfy themselves by inclosing a postage stamp and asking for specimen copies which the Publishers say they will gladly send them. Address,

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Extract from the Platform adopted by the Republican State Convention, Detroit, March 12:

Resolved, That the right of the people to participate in the Legislature is the best security of liberty, and the foundation of all free government. For this purpose elections ought to be free and frequent, and every man having property in, a common interest with, and an attachment to the community, ought to have the right of suffrage. That no man or set of men are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges, except in consideration of public services.

Resolved, That the Republicans of Michigan owe it to themselves, to the framers of the Declaration of Independence, to the interests of free government everywhere, to secure by a triumphant majority the ratification of the proposed Constitution, with its broad platform of equal and exact justice to all men, impartial suffrage, and equality before the law.

Resolved, That this Constitution, in the opinion of this Convention, is far better adapted to develop the resources of Michigan and advance the real interests of the people than our present Constitution, and independent of the great principles of liberty involved in the question of its adoption it ought to receive the zealous support of all our citizens.

—We judge from the immense sales that Mrs S. A Allen's Improved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing [in one bottle] is preferred by every one. Every Druggist sells Price One Dollar.

MARRIED.

In this city on the 8th inst., by Rev. G. P Tindall, Mr. A. F. BURBANK and Miss EMMA J. WOODRUFF. No cards.

DIED

In this city, at 5 o'clock, Sabbath morning, March 22d, Mrs. ADALINE, wife of Charles Moore. Her illness has been regarded as dangerous for several weeks.

Mrs. Moore was well known in this community, having resided here for the last thirty-five years, and during most of the time her husband having been a prominent merchant. She came to this place in 1835 a bride. She retained the sprightliness and peculiar freshness of youth in a remarkable degree, appearing very like a young woman, until her last sickness, which began some months before her death.

She was born in Bedford, New Hampshire, in 1813, one of a family of twelve children, one half of whom survive her. Fine health and social position enabled her to contribute a good share to the society of the place. Outside of her own family she is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Nine years ago she became a member of the Presbyterian church of this city. Though it was during a revival in that congregation yet her religious awakening was rather connected with a new religious interest which at the time was going through her own family, different members of which living in different places, about the same time became Christians.

During her last illness her mind was very calm, and her trust in her Savior was very strong. and her peace was very sweet. At last she had no fear, no doubts, but an unquestioning faith in Jesus, and a serenity of spirit that seemed to partake of heaven itself. In her extreme bodily weakness and compossure of spirit she had often felt to say, "Lord. take me;" and she did literally fall asleep in Jesus.

As a wife and a mother no one could be mourned more deeply. She was as a youthful companion to her children, and she was a stay and a precious support to her husband. Her natural vivacity of spirit, her tenderness of heart, and ready and strong affection, and her constant ability to minister to the comfort and happiness of her family, all enable them to feel that to them her death is a great loss, while they are comforted with the assurance that to herself it is an infinite gain.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases
OF THE
LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from Alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters.
In cases of nervous depression, when some alcoholic stimulus is necessary,

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC
should be used.
The Bitters or the Tonic are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to become deranged. The result of which is, that the patient suffers from have its functions several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole System, the Appetite is Strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

Persons Advanced in Life,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instill new life in their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.
It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. Geo. W. Woodward.
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.
"I find Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

Hon. James Thompson.
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

AS AN APERIENT, -
There is no medicine so much in favor with those who are acquainted with their action as Roback's Blood Pills; they are safe, pleasant and mild in their operation, and are purely vegetable; can be taken by children as well as adults; try them. C. C. Kingsbury agent Ypsilanti.

BAD TASTE
In the mouth in the morning is one of the symptoms of a billious condition or disordered state of the liver, and should not for a single day, be neglected, as it is but the premonitory symptom of a train of evils and the very seeds of disease. Procure at once Roback's Blood Pills, administer them according to the directions accompanying each box, and the difficulty and danger of disease will at once be removed. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti.

NOT A BEVERAGE.
Unlike most of the bitters of the present day. Dr. Roback's are not intended as a pleasant stimulating whisky beverage, but are perfectly medicinal, containing only sufficient pure bourbon whisky to hold in solution the medicinal extractive matter from which they are composed. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti. 209-3m

ERYSIPELAS,
Or, St. Anthony's Fire, can be most effectually eradicated by the use of Roback's Blood Purifier in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti.

OPTHALMIA,
Or, Inflammation of the Eyes, not unfrequently arises from a disordered state of the stomach; a few doses of Roback's Blood Pills will, in most cases, effect a cure by removing the cause. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti

Keep Your Blood Pure.
There are no remedies, now before the public, so well calculated to purify the blood and reconstruct (as to speak) the whole system as Roback's Blood Purifier, Blood Pills and Stomach Bitters. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti.

LEUCORRŒA,
Or, Whites, which follow local debility and constitutional weakness, can be effectually cured by the use of Roback's Stomach Bitters. Do not let the druggist sell you any other remedy, as these Bitters are prepared with especial reference to this complaint, and are warranted to cure. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.
As a remedy to soothe all nervous excitement, and in its truest sense, a NERVINE, their is, perhaps, no medicine extant which is received with so much favor as Roback's Stomach Bitters; a wine glass full on going to bed is all that is required to produce sound and healthful sleep. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti.

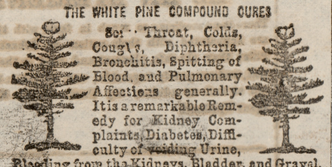
THE GREAT NEW ENGLAND REMEDY!

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

WHITE PINE COMPOUND.

THE WHITE PINE COMPOUND CURES



Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and Pulmonary Affections generally. It is a remarkable Remedy for Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Difficulty of voiding Urine, Bleeding from the Kidneys, Bladder, and Gravel.

"It was early in the spring of 1853 that this Compound was originated. A member of my family was afflicted with an irritation of the throat, attended with a disagreeable cough. I had for some months previous thought that a preparation, having for its basis the inside bark of white pine, might be so compounded as to be very useful in the case of the throat and lungs. To test the value of it in the case alluded to, I compounded a small quantity of the medicine that I had been planning, and gave it in teaspoonful doses. The result was exceedingly gratifying. Within two days the irritation of the throat was removed, the cough subsided, and a speedy cure was effected. Soon after this I sent some to a lady in Londonderry, N. H., who had been suffering for some weeks from a bad cough, occasioned by a sudden cold, and had raised mucus streaked with blood. She soon found relief, and sent for more. She took about ten ounces of it, and got well. J. B. Clark, Esq., editor of the Manchester Daily Mirror, made a trial of the same preparation in the case of a severe cold, and was cured immediately. He was so highly pleased with the results, and so confident of success attending its sale if placed before the public, that he finally persuaded me to give it a name and send it abroad to benefit the suffering."

Testimonials.

A very large number of important testimonials have already been received from Physicians, Clergymen, Apothecaries, and, indeed, from all classes in society, speaking in the most flattering terms of the White Pine Compound.

Dr. NICHOLS, of Northfield, Vt., says:

"I find the White Pine Compound to be very efficacious not only in coughs and other pulmonic affections but also in affections of the kidneys, debility of the stomach, and other kindred organs."

Rev. J. K. CHASE, of Rumney, N. H., writes:

"I have for years regarded your White Pine Compound as an invaluable remedy. I can truly say that I regard it as even more efficacious and valuable than ever. I have just taken the Compound for a cold, and it works charmingly."

From JAMES J. HOYT.

BRADFORD, N. H., September, 1859.

DR. POLAND: In the Fall of 1857 I took a very violent cold, which brought on a very severe cough, pain in the side and lungs, and raising blood. I was also very badly afflicted with that troublesome disease—the Kidney Complaint. For the three years past I have been very much troubled with my throat and lungs, choking up and raising an immense sight, with a bad cough after raising blood. I felt that my time here must be short unless I soon got relief. This Spring, I was induced to try your White Pine Compound, though my faith in it was small. But to my astonishment, before I had taken two bottles my cough was better, the kidney trouble also, and I could rest nights without choking up and raising so much. I have taken nearly three bottles, and am feeling like a well man.

I would add that my father's family is inclined to consumption, my father, mother, and two sisters having died of it.

The White Pine Compound, advertised at length in our columns, is not only of the same inviting, but is a highly approved medicine. Dr. J. W. Poland, the inventor, has the confidence of the many who know him, a confidence which he enjoyed while laboring usefully many years as a Baptist minister. His experience as a sufferer led him to make experiments which issued in his medical discovery.—Boston Watchman and Reflector.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.—Dr. Poland's White Pine Compound, advertised in our columns, is a successful attempt to combine and apply the medicinal virtues of the White Pine bark. It has been thoroughly tested by people in this city and vicinity, and the proprietor has testimonials to its value from persons well known to our citizens. We recommend its trial to all those afflicted with diseases to which it is adapted. It is for sale by all our druggists.—New York Independent.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years trial by the public; and no preparation for the hair yet discovered will produce the same beneficial results. It is a new scientific discovery, combining the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehoods, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them! Purchase the original: it has never been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

Great United States Tea Warehouse

OF

T. Y. KELLEY & CO.

30 VESEY STREET, N. Y.

Are now supplying families throughout the United States with Teas, through the system of clubs and their regular appointed agents, at a slight advance on cargo prices, and guaranteeing their Teas to be pure and fresh, and also to give entire satisfaction, or they can be returned and the money refunded.

The advantage of buying Teas from our Warehouse is: you save the various profits of Speculators, Brokers, Wholesale Tea Merchants, Jobbers, Wholesale Grocers and Retailers, which in the aggregate, amount to from 50 cents to $1.00 per pound, and also are sure of getting the same quality and standard every time.

Our standard goods all bear our Trade Mark on the bags, and no others are genuine. Parties will please bear this in mind, as our great success has induced some unprincipled parties in New York, Boston, and other places to imitate our style of putting up good as near as they dare to—to entrap the unwary.

They are put up in the unique and beautiful style of the Chinese in one pound packages, and we will sell them in the original packages at cargo prices; the Hyson at $1.60; the Oolong at $1.30. We imported the first invoice that has reached this country and have effected arrangements through out agents in China to receive them regular hereafter.

The only advantage these Teas possess over our regular styles is the fancy flavor.

A NOVELTY IN TEAS.

Teas sixty days from Japan.

We are now receiving Uncolored Japan Teas by way of Pacific Mail Steam Ship Co.'s new route, direct from Yokakoma via San Francisco. Put up for us in Japan in one pound papers. The usual time allowed for a cargo of Teas from Japan is one year and a half, but American enterprise has enabled us to offer to our customers, Japan Teas as fresh as the natives themselves can procure them. Owing to the heavy freights, we are obliged to charge $1.40 per pound.

GROUND COFFEES.

PURE RIO, 20, 25 and 30 cents per pound.

All goods are put up by ourselves in one pound packages at our Warehouse in New York and retailed at Ypsilanti by Smith Bros. at a small advance of 5 cents a pound over our New York prices. This brings our goods at the prices they can be purchased over our counters, with the freight added. We solicit a fair and thorough trial. 204-6m.

PULMONIC LIFE SYRUP,

FOR THE CURE OF

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia and General Debility. For several years I have been urged by kind friends, who have used, and been benefitted by, my Life Syrup, to put it up for general sale; but few know the large expense, now that the country is flooded with Patent Medicines, which attend the same. For years past I was reluctant to do so, as the capital required would be large, and I do not wish to curtail the operations of my Venetian Liniment business. But, thanks to the generous public, who have appreciated my Venetian Liniment, I am now able to do so, without any detriment to my large business in that medicine. The foundation of my success I attribute to attending to the manufacture of every drop myself, and shall do the same in regard to my Pulmonic Life Syrup. The Ingredients are perfectly harmless, but act on the Lungs and Liver with astonishing effect. Price 75 cents. Depot, No. 56 Cortlandt Street, New York, near Jersey City Ferry. Robinson and the Maid of the Mist.

I do injustice to Niagara and one of his best memories among human kind in saying no head or hands—for if ever a man were both—developed to the highest degree of sagacity and helpfulness—it was noble old Robinson. Green grow the hyssop on his too early grave! I knew him well, and never missed a presence of Niagara more, than I did when, coming back one season, I found he had been promoted from the pilot house to a station somewhere in the universe where I no more doubt he is now bravely and gladly doing his duty than I doubt that the stars are. I scarcely more doubt that he would have got the man off the snag if the crowd would have obeyed him. Do you see that little island by the paper mill where the treacherous flood runs smooth under the black shadows like a sliding floor of steel? In that terrible water—almost within wind rush of the American precipice—Robinson once went, without hestitation, and brought back in his skiff Chapin, the carpenter, after whom the island is named, and who had been swept down from the bridge above. I will not overstate the record even of departed hero, and I keep in bounds when I say that during his good and generous manhood, Robinson five times at least saved his fellow creatures from a death as horrible as that of the man's on the snag, at the even risk of sharing instead of averting it.

He was one of the few men I ever knew originally constituted without the sense of fear. All of us by bitter experience may acquire moral courage, but it was Robinson's happy organization never in his life to be afraid either in body or soul.

One day, just where our barouche is pausing now, he leaned his wiry form over the hand-rail by my side—looked grimly down at the snag of '53, and said: "I could ha' saved him; I could ha' saved him." And then turning sadly away, he pointed me out the spot to which, within a few yards of the falls on the Goat Island side during the severe January of '57, sleighs were driven down upon the tight wedged ice-pack.

It was on the same afternoon, just at the beautiful point of the island, between the Falls, that Robinson stood gazing down with all a child's freshness of delight on his adored river, and told me that he loved it all, as well as he did anything in the world. Knew it all, too, with one reservation.

"I've never been down through that whirlpool," said Robinson, with an expression of shame. "They say it can't be done. I've heard all their stories about it; but I've watched that pool from these banks, man and boy, this thirty year, and I know it can be done. And some time," said Robinson, smilingly, "I'm a-going to do it."

The next time I came to Niagara he had done it. I did not see him, for he had also passed wilder waters than these, and was where they send us no report from their happy anchorage. But I heard of his deed, and though it be an old story—keep on, driver, and let the garrulous old gentleman on the front seat tell it again. It will be done by the time we halt at the point to alight and peer into that downward heaven of rainbows.

So the story goes: "A creditor of the Maid of the Mist (the gallant little craft whereof at that time, as always, Robinson was skipper, pilot and helmsman) issued an attachment to seize the boat.

Obviously Robinson's time was come. He had told me he could do it—would do it. Now there was a chance to do it—in fact there was no chance of anything else but confiscation. He had run the Maid of the Mist as nearly up the front of the Fall, several times while I was on board, as I cared to go before the days of accident-insurance—but in spite of all my well-grounded confidence in his genius and pluck, I was on each occasioin obliged to tell him in confidence that I thought he'd never be able to pass that way. So he concluded to see how the mouth of the river looked, being led to that decision all the more by the pleasure of conquering the whirlpool on the way. If the world were full of Robinsons difficulties would be nothing but an exhilarating human croquet-game.

He took with him only a single man—I wish I knew his name—who volunteered, understanding all the circumstances, to stick to his back and mind the engine while Robinson held the wheel.

The sheriff reached the wharf just in time for the pleasure of flapping his useless warrant at the white stem of the Maid as she shot round the terrible turn below the Suspension Bridge. Terrible, because there, all the waters of our inland oceans, piled into one deep rift that a mountain brook might spread through, turn suddenly to the left, packing tighter as they go, until where their adamant prison condenses them into a slow resistless column, measurlessly deep, curved and heaped by their compression, like a trussed root, to a crown in the middle of the current twelve feet higher than the spring of the arch at either margin, they whirl desperately over to escape the torture of the repression, turn grimly back on their course at the opposite exasperating promontory, and turn their subsequent rage to that slow, resistless, cyclic sweep, which ever seeks to suck under by treachery whom it could not bear down by force.

Through this mælstrom I venture, as well as if I had been there, to say that old Robinson took the Maid without a tremor. She lay over to port on the middle of the arched current-bank I referred to, to such a degree that the climbing green marble hissed against her smoke stack; Robinson was thrown on to one of the spokes and got a hurt, which he called of "the ribs," but which I fear contributed to his not long subsequent death of consumption. The Maid went nearly on her beam-ends, but the old pilot lay on his house-door and never let go till he caught her foot again. Of course the arrowy river despatched this matter much quicker than I have—but round that turn, over the bank and through the pool (though Robinson was less troubled by the swirl than he expected) was quite long enough even for an absolutely fearless man to lie on his back, with a dig in his ribs, a spoke in his hand, and a question in his mind whether he should come out of an experiment in which he was the unenvied pioneer, with his keel up or down, on Lake Ontario."

Pinkerton's Detectives Work Up the Robbery of a Bank Safe—How it was Done.

From the Adrian Times 13th.

Some of our readers may perhaps remember that in May, 1866, a building occupied by a National Bank, at Paw Paw, Van Buren country, this State, was burned. Some of them may also remember the subsequent robbery of the bank safe and the loss of a large amount of money, bonds, etc. The circumstances attending this affair were recently brought to light in this city, through the agency of Allen Pinkerton, of Chicago, and some of his detectives, after the following manner:

As we before stated, the building was burned in May, 1866. Soon after the office of the bank was located in the hardware store of R. N. Buck, a merchant doing business in the place, and the safe of the bank was moved to his store. The lock securing the safe was a superior one, and none knew the combination on which it was locked but the President and Cashier of the bank. But on Monday morning in March, 1867, currency, bonds and compound interest notes to the value of $20,000 were found to be missing from the safe, although the latter was locked and everything apparently was in statu quo, except the contents of the safe. As nobody but the officers of the bank knew the combination on which the safe was locked, public opinion turned very strongly against them as the criminals. Suit was commenced against them by the stockholders of the bank, and judgment rendered against the President and Cashier for the amount missing.

Matters were apparently in this shape until Wednesday afternoon, when, on the arrival at Toledo of the train from Cleveland, Mr. Buck was arrested by Allen Pinkerton the celebrated detective of Chicago, brought to this city and lodged in jail.

About six months ago Buck engaged a clerk who came from Chicago, bearing the best of recommendations, and who has comported himself commendably while in Buck's employ. Strange to say ever since this clerk's advent in Buck's store, Allen Pinkerton has been made familiar with every motion of Mr. B.

He was by this means informed that on Tuesday Mr. Buck would visit Cleveland, and was enabled to send one of his detectives down on the same train. Buck visited a bank in Cleveland and disposed of $850 in compound interest notes, receiving therefor $1,064 10 in currency. As he left the bank the detective, who had been "shadowing" him, passed in and purchased the same notes Buck had just disposed of. They were mildewed, and had evidently been damped and dried.

Mr. Pinkerton, himself met Buck in the depot at Toledo, shook hands with him, and informed him he was under arrest. They took the next train for this place.

Arrived here Buck was committed to jail, and Pinkerton, accompanied by Mr. Henry Hart, of this city, visited him there. As yet there was no evidence sufficient to convict him, but after a short interview with his visitors a few interrogatories and shrewdly worded statements wormed a full confession from him.

He stated that he robbed the safe on Sunday morning, put the contents in two tin boxes which he took from his store, took them to the town of Hamilton, Van Buren county, where his father resides, and there buried them in the ground. He stated that $7000 remain buried there. Buck is a man of some property, and has always maintained a good position in society in Paw Paw. He was formerly a captain in the 4th Michigan Calvary. His detection reflects great credit on Pinkerton's sagacity.

—Here is what the La Crosse Democrat says of Grant: "Grant is a Methodist by trade, a tyrant by instinct, a drunkard by nature, and a bigoted Know-Nothing by descent; according to the drivelling account published by a dilapidated patch of old boot leather, the paternal Grant, the remote ancestors of Ulysses were of the Mayflower convicts. U. S. Grant has left no stone unturned to secure his election to the Presidency. A convicted liar, on the testimony of five members of the Cabinet and the President of the United States; a drunkard from the testimony of all army officers who know him from Whiskey Sheridan to Tecumseh Sherman; a foul Puritan from the testimony of his emasculated daddy and the tenor of his military orders—his election would be an outrage on decency far greater than the election of the defunct clown who clung to the office like grim death to a sick nigger, until the breath left his angular carcass."
